Korea Policy Forum Biden's North Korea Policy and U.S.-ROK Relations

Friday, May 14, 2021 9:00 AM - 11:00 AM (EDT) 10:00 PM - 12:00 AM (KST)

EVENT DESCRIPTION

President Joe Biden affirmed his intention to work closely with U.S. allies to address threats from North Korea through diplomacy and deterrence in his first address to a joint session of Congress. On the third anniversary of the signing of the Panmunjom Declaration with North Korean leader Kim Jung-Un, President Moon Jae-In urged for a resumption of the otherwise stalled Korean peninsula peace process, including restoring the inter-Korean dialogue. The upcoming U.S.-ROK summit on May 21 may represent a key milestone in the development of a new coordinated approach between the United States and South Korea to address issues related to North Korea. Please join the GW Institute for Korean Studies for an online discussion with experts who will be discussing views from the United States and South Korea on the Biden administration's approach to the Korean peninsula and the state of U.S.-ROK relations.
